SOUTH SUDAN
Juba	Advice Line 211-955-875-181 FOFCOD is committed to the advancement of women's human rights and places the realization of this at the centre of our work. We are convinced that without women making decisions equally with men, certain aspects of change and development can not be attained. FOFCOD cater to women's needs and also advances women's human rights in South Sudan, because young girls and women's rights are largely ignored in our country. FOFCOD's work is to stop the suffering and humiliation this brings and instead ensure that women have a right to be who they are. Obstacles to rights arise when women and girls are prevented from going to school or subjected to harmful traditional practices.	FOFCOD Off Ministries Road Kololo Tong Ping Juba 211-955-875-181 Office / Advice	info@fofcod.org

In 2011 the people of South Sudan voted to become independent after decades of conflict that left whole communities to face extreme poverty, violence, hunger and disease. The American Refugee Committee is well known in South Sudan for its work in Gender-Based Violence prevention and response projects. We provide services for survivors of violence including counselling, paralegal advice, referrals and clinic services. Raising awareness of gender-based violence is a way to address the root cause of gender equality and influence behavior changes. ARC have facilities in four counties, these are Kajo Keji, Magwi, Kapoeta South and Kapoeta East.
