Kigali	Advice Line (250) 088-582-15 Norwegian People's Aid has worked in Rwanda since the Genocide of 1994. Since then our organisation has been involved with ending Gender Based violence. Six local partners join forces as a response to violence including physical, economic, sexual and psychological violence a key challenge to more than a third of Rwandese women. the goal is to add impetus to the national struggle against such violence. Sensitization and training activities, conflict resolution, counselling and trauma related coping mechanisms are mainly provided by trained male and female volunteers. Many of the volunteers are couples that have succeeded in their own transformation process. www.npaid.org/Our-Work/Development-Cooperation/Where-we-work/Development-Cooperation-in-Rwanda	Norwegian People's Aid PO Box 2966 Kigali 250-088-582-15 Office / Advice	www.npaid.org
