The Champion Project is an innovative five year initiative to increase men's involvement in parenting. Because of power imbalances in sexual relationships, women are particularly vulnerable to HIV infection and Gender Based Violence. To lessen this impact on women and to improve behaviors of men and their roles in society the Champion project offers a programme to reduce men's high risk behaviors and to promote fidelity. We work to reduce Gender Based Violence and to increase men's participation in health services.

TANGYWA was founded in2004 as a support group serving the neediest of girls and young women affected by and living with HIV/AIDS.

TANGYWA is committed in supportin girls and young women restore their dignity after torture, humiliation and harassment thus enabling them to pursue and realize their personal rights and development opportunities.

The abuses of our girls and young women in our society are through domestic violence, assault, eviction, child labour, difilement , female genital mutilation and forced adolescent marriages. Therefore as these barbaric acts are escultating at an alarming rate TANGYWA is interferring to try to avert the situation and hopes to find some solutions.

TWCWC believes that the prevalence of child labour is one of the major development challenges facing Tanzania today. TWCWC managed to create opportunities for 286 young children to access further vocational training to give them freedom from their domestic slavery. And we work continually to increase this number. TWCWC conducts day to day legal aid and counselling sessions at Temeke Womens legal aid centre, located at Chang'ombe ward in Temeke district.

Our organisation was founded in February 1999, When six women organised themselves to form a gender group with the specific objective of advocating women's rights in the community. Since then we have grown steadily and our main duties now are to give legal advice on a day to day basis to our clients who come to us affected by domestic violence and rape related issues. We support our clients and escort them to the courts suppling moral support. Please see our web pages for more details.

TWCWC believes that the prevalence of child labour is one of the major development challenges facing Tanzania today. TWCWC managed to create opportunities for 286 young children to access further vocational training to give them freedom from their domestic slavery. And we work continually to increase this number. TWCWC conducts day to day legal aid and counselling sessions at Temeke Womens legal aid centre, located at Chang'ombe ward in Temeke district.
