ActionAid International Uganda has been working in Uganda since 1982, when we started our first programs in Mityana Sub-County, Mubende District. Our Women’s Rights and Gender Equity Program aims to address persistent patriarchal, traditional and harmful religious, social and cultural beliefs and practices like Female Genital Mutilation, Wife Battering, Forced Early Marriages, Defilement, Rape and Sexual Harassment. Kabarole Integrated Women's Effort in Development (KIWED) was founded in 1999 by women in the Kabarole District. We aim to reduce the cause of Gender Based Violence in our service area.

In Uganda nearly 2 million children have lost one or both parents to AIDS. Increasing numbers of young and adolescent people are now head of their families - raising themselves and their siblings without the daily care and guidance of a trusted adult. These children are vulnerable to exploitation and abuse. They are also likely to be out of school and struggling with psychosocial challenges. We at KIDA hope to enable these children into some form of education and to provide quality health care for them. We offer education through drama and counseling and a home care visiting Program.

We ensure social transformation and sustainable development of vulnerable groups. This means creating conditions that ensures that girls have equal access to basic education, they are able to make informed decisions about their future and are able to protect themselves from trafficking, sexual abuse and exploitation and HIV/AIDS.
ment and Globalization was founded by grassroots women in Northern Uganda who had suffered from the impact of a violent war. Today the guns of Northern Uganda are silent but there are still many human rights violations witnessed in the area. Gender Based Violence is one of the most profound violations. The prevention and response to this violence is being implemented by GWED-G with the support of the American Refugee Council at Gulu Sub-County office. GWED-G provides personnel for rapid response to Gender Based Violence in Awach sub-county. Clients are supported with counseling. Medical services and transport refunds.

Anti Domestic Violence Coalition has a vision of families free from any form of domestic violence. We started a response organization with a shelter for battered women but we were overwhelmed by the number of victims and many times we could not shelter all. Our program is to sensitize communities on the causes and dangers of domestic violence, provide referral services to victims and to train member orgs on preventing violence using the SASA methodology.
